[Dm] Morning in [C7] Paris the [F] city [Bbm7] awakes to the [F] Bells of [A7+5] Notre [Dm] Dame - the [Dm] Fisherman [C7] fishes the [F] baker man [Bbm7] bakes to the [F] Bells of [C7] Notre [F] Dame - to the [Gm7] Big bells as [Am] loud as the [Dm] thunder - to the [Gm7] Little bells [C] soft as a [Asus4] psalm [A] and [Dm] Some say the [C7] soul of the [F] city's the [Bbm7] toll of the [Dm] bells --
The [G7sus4] bells of [C5] No-[Am]tre [Dm] Dame

[Dm] Dark was the [C7] night when our [F] tale was [Bbm7] begun on the [F] Docks near [A7+5] Notre [Dm] Dame -
[Dm] Four frightened [C7] gypsies slid [F] silently [Bbm7] under the [F] Docks near [C7] Notre [F] Dame - but a [Gm7] Trap had been [Am] laid for the [Dm] gypsies and they [Gm7] Gazed up in [C7] fear and [Asus4] alarm [A] at a
[Dm] Figure whose [C7] clutches were [F] iron as [Bbm7] much as the [Dm] bells --
The [G7sus4] bells of [C5] No-[Am]tre [Dm] Dame

[Dm] See there the [C7] innocent [F] blood you have [Bbm7] spilt on the [Dm] Steps of [A7+5] Notre [Dm] Dame -
[Dm] Now you would [C7] add this child's [F] blood to your [Bbm7] guilt on the [F] Steps of [C7] Notre [F] Dame - you can [Gm7] Lie to your-[Am]self and your [Dm] minions - you can [Gm7] Claim that you [C] haven't a [Asus4] qualm [A] but you
[Dm] Never can [C7] run from nor [F] hide what you've [Bbm7] Done from the [Dm] eyes -- [Dm7] the very [G7sus] eyes of [C5] No-[Am]tre [Dm] Dame

Now [Dm] here is a [C7] riddle to [F] guess if you [Bbm7] can sing the [F] Bells of [A7+5] Notre [Dm] Dame
[Gm7] Who is the [Am7] monster and [Dm] who is the [BbMaj7] man - sing the [Gm7] Bells [Gm7] bells, [Am7] bells [Am7] bells, [Bbm7] bells [Bbm7] bells, [Am7] Bells [Am7] bells the [G7sus4] Bells [BbMaj7] of [C5] No-[Am]tre [D] Dame
